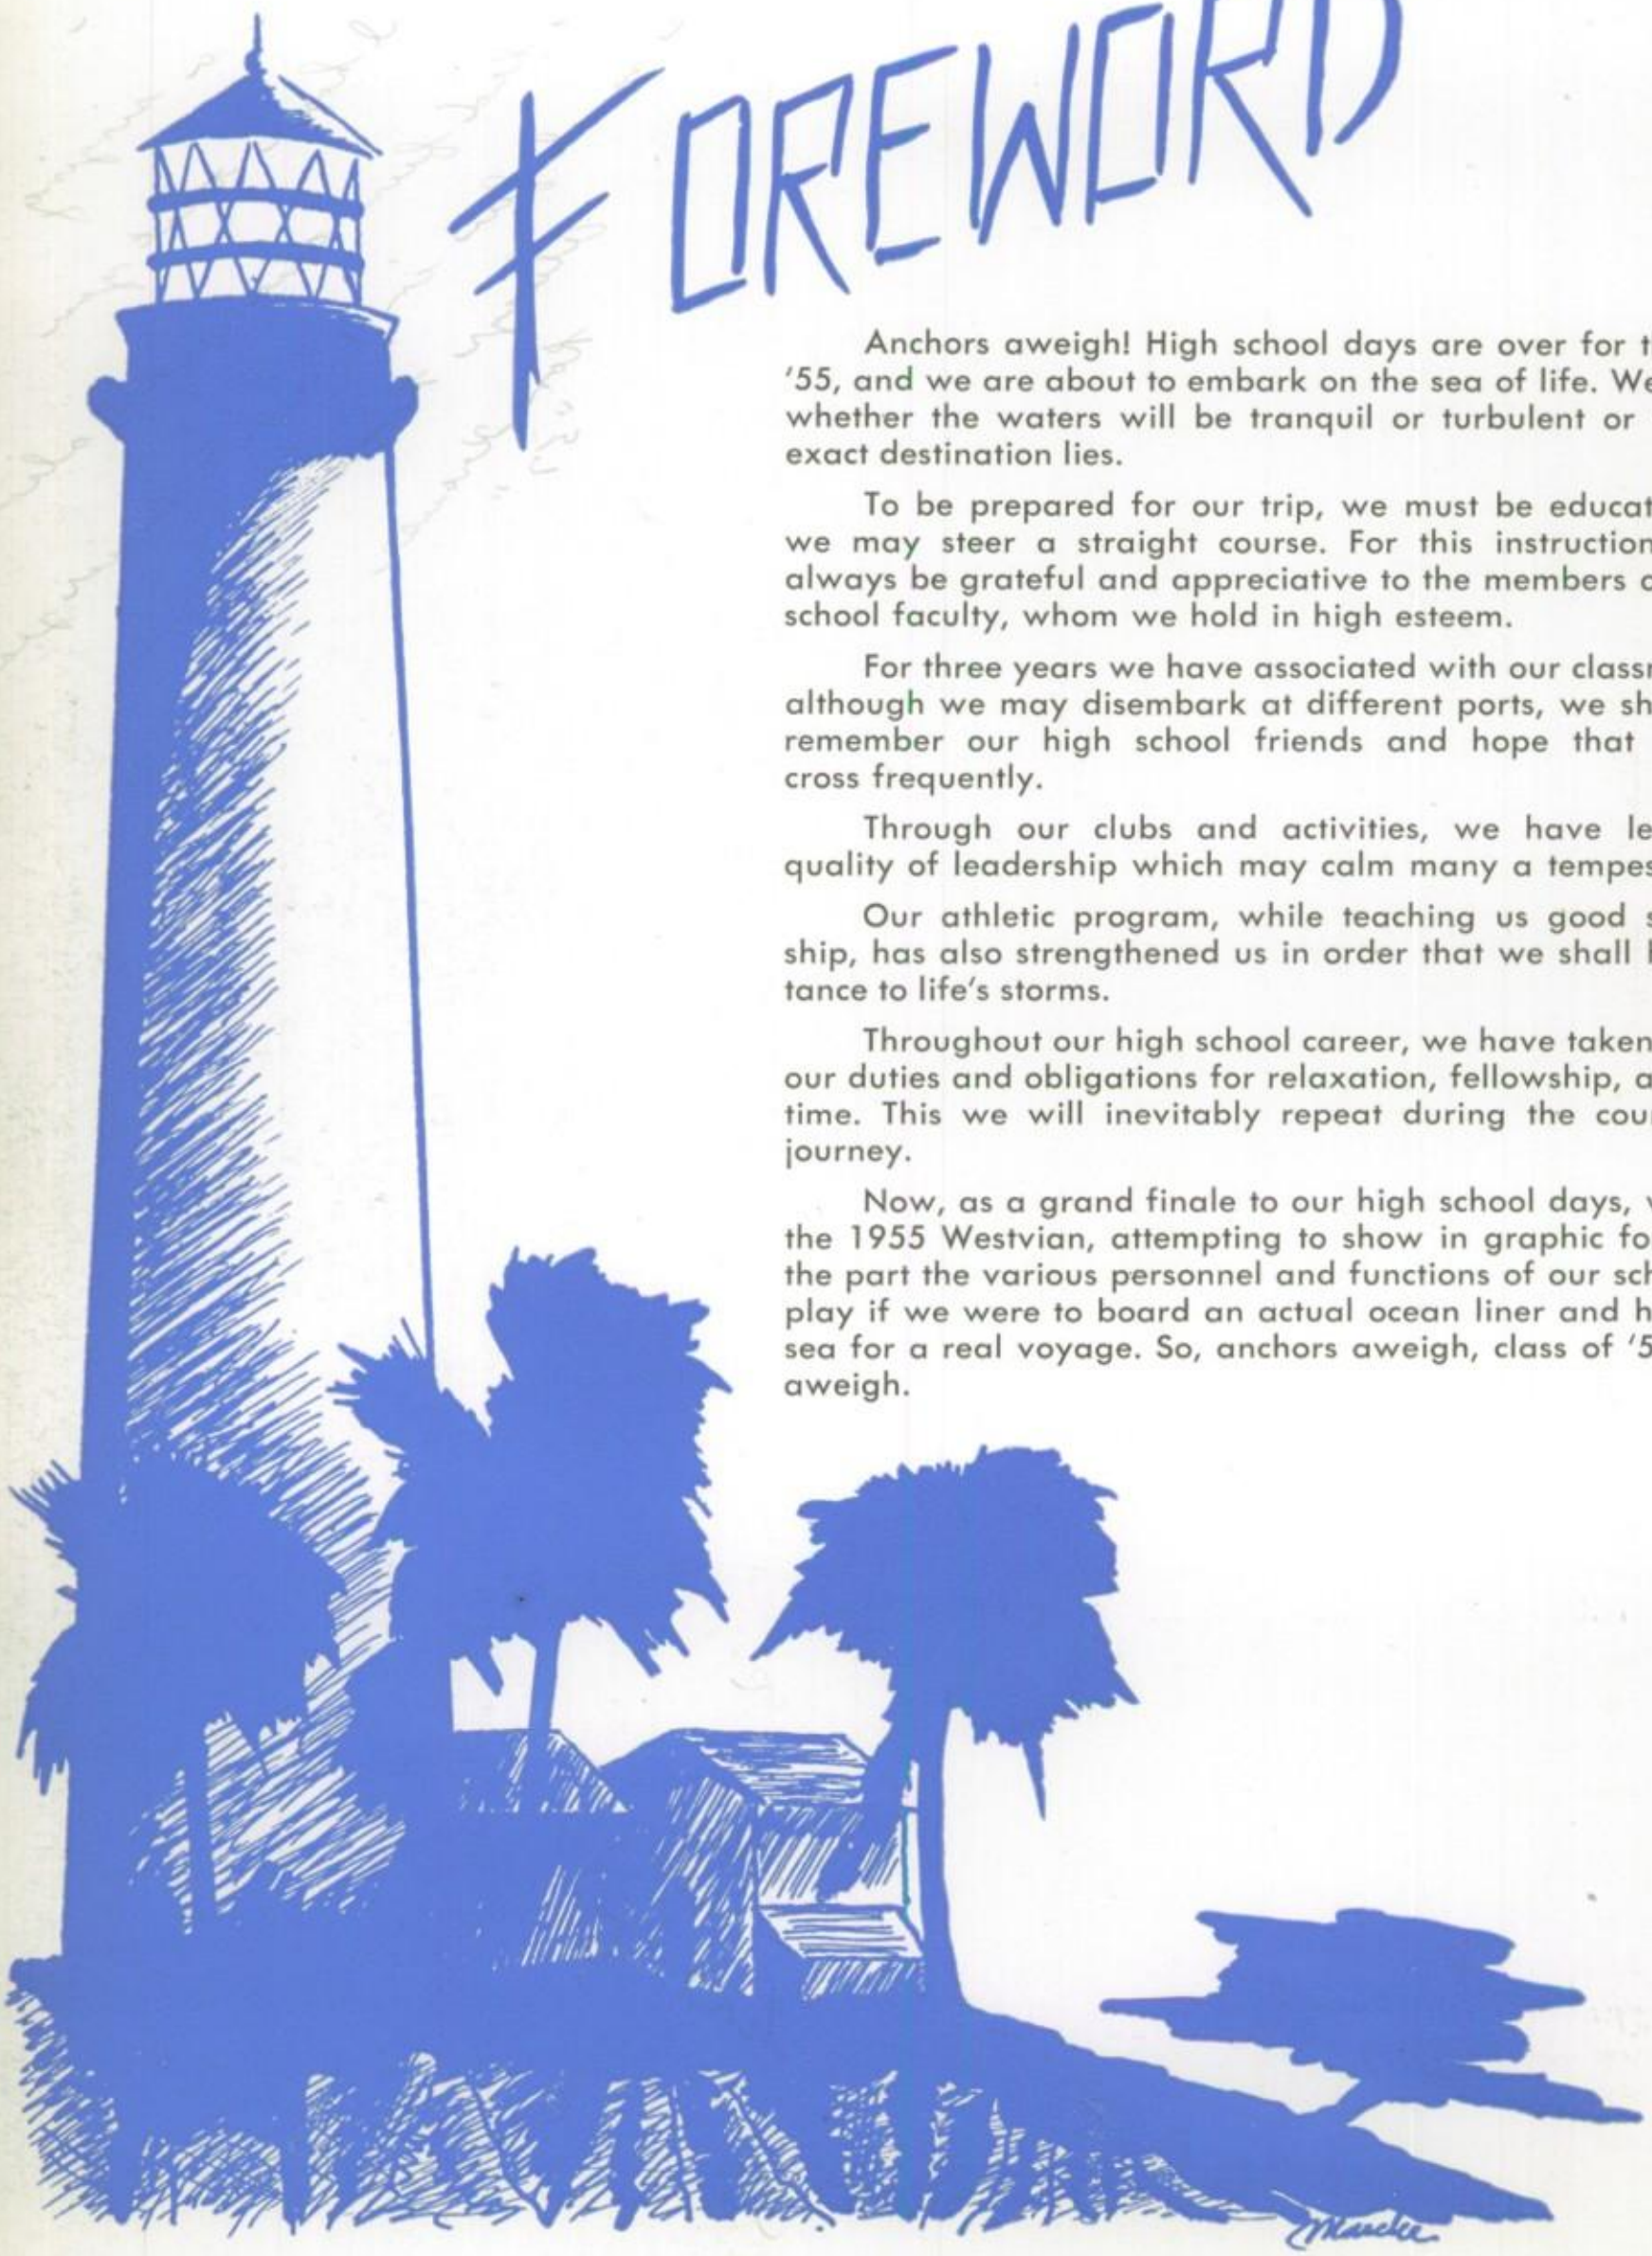
FOREWORD



Anchors aweigh! High school days are over for the class of '55, and we are about to embark on the sea of life. We know not whether the waters will be tranquil or turbulent or where our exact destination lies.

To be prepared for our trip, we must be educated so that we may steer a straight course. For this instruction we shall always be grateful and appreciative to the members of our high school faculty, whom we hold in high esteem.

For three years we have associated with our classmates, and although we may disembark at different ports, we shall always remember our high school friends and hope that our paths cross frequently.

Through our clubs and activities, we have learned the quality of leadership which may calm many a tempestuous sea.

Our athletic program, while teaching us good sportsmanship, has also strengthened us in order that we shall have resistance to life's storms.

Throughout our high school career, we have taken time from our duties and obligations for relaxation, fellowship, and a good time. This we will inevitably repeat during the course of our journey.

Now, as a grand finale to our high school days, we present the 1955 Westvian, attempting to show in graphic form exactly the part the various personnel and functions of our school would play if we were to board an actual ocean liner and head out to sea for a real voyage. So, anchors aweigh, class of '55, anchors aweigh.

ADMINISTRATORS

A school system is a large and complicated organization, and it certainly cannot run successfully without able supervision. We are proud to say that our administrators are among the finest to be had. Not only are they outstanding leaders, but they make it a point to become acquainted with the students and make our problems their problems. The more closely knit an organization is the better it will function. This is illustrated by the feeling of companionship felt by the students toward their principals. To be sure, they are greatly respected and held in high esteem by all of the student body, but we students can always feel free to approach them in matters where their guidance and help will be needed and appreciated. They are always eager to encourage us, and, on the other hand, when disciplinary action is needed, they handle it in as fair a manner as possible. Their faces are as familiar around the halls as are those of our teachers and fellow students, and it gives us a sense of pride to know that our administrators are interested in all that goes on in West View High School. We students may all benefit from their understanding, sincerity, and good judgment, and should leave high school prepared to face the world as good and wise citizens. Let us make the most of the good examples which have been set for us by our administrators.

DR. R. S. RICE

Supervising Principal

At the head of our school system is our supervising principal, Dr. R. S. Rice. We can certainly be proud of his record, accomplishments, and experience.

He attained all three of his degrees, B.S., M.S., and Ed.D. at Penn State University and has been teacher and administrator in many schools.

Included in the list of subjects he has taught are sciences, social sciences, music, shop, English and guidance. Schools in four counties have benefited from his instruction. He was high school principal and supervising principal at Sparta Consolidate, Parker City, Bolivar, and North Versailles Township before coming to the North Hills school system. It is interesting to note that he was principal of Samuel Hamilton for two years and has been our supervising principal since 1939.

General Managers

W. S. LUKE

High School Principal

The position of a high school principal is a complex and tedious one, and we are fortunate to have Mr. Luke to handle these tasks.

Mr. Luke began his teaching career in a small country school in Beaver County. Here he taught fifty-three children who ranged from first to eighth grade. He obtained his B.S. degree at Pitt. Canonsburg High School, Peters' Township High School, and Houston Public School compile the list of schools at which he taught previous to 1945, the year he came to West View.

During his years with these other schools, he coached many sports as well as being a math, social studies, English, and physical education instructor. Here at West View he taught math and social studies. Then in 1951 he became our principal.

HAZEL McGINNIS

Assistant High School Principal

All of us realize, but unfortunately few of us appreciate, the hard job that Miss McGinnis, our assistant high school principal, has to do. As assistant principal and attendance officer, her jobs are many. She must check students' attendance to school and class, make the state attendance reports, determine the class rank for each student in the school, and compile the honor roll.

Miss McGinnis graduated from the University of Pittsburgh where she received her B.A. degree. She has been with West View for her entire career. She started by teaching math when junior high students were in the building; then became a senior math instructor. In 1952 she was selected to be assistant high school principal and attendance officer.

Mr. Gesey, Mr. Martorelli, Miss Armstrong, Miss Wright, and Miss Wadlinger are responsible for the excellent education our commercial students receive.

The high school's excellent teaching staff is truly a most important factor in the education of the West View student. Every student, whether he is taking the academic, commercial, or general course, is assured of the best possible training.

Science is probably one of the most popular courses in West View. The fundamentals are taught in Biology I, physics, and chemistry, and creative genius is displayed in the junior science, Biology II, and senior science classes.

A very adequate course in mathematics is offered. It includes plane geometry, Algebra II, trigonometry, and senior math.

Languages are a source of enjoyment and knowledge. Many students may be found spouting Spanish, French, or even Latin, to the amazement of their strictly English-speaking friends.

History, a required subject for all, is livened up by films and discussions on current events. Psychology is also taught as part of the senior history course.

Those who plan to enter the commercial world have instruction in typewriting, bookkeeping, consumer education, and office practice. They are always well qualified for the business field.

There are several courses available for those who are blessed with more artistic talents. Music, art, home economics, and industrial arts teachers give training which is valuable to some students in deciding their careers.

Much of the success of the graduates of West View can be attributed to these teachers who work hard and sincerely to provide each student with the background necessary for the citizens of tomorrow.

Standing—Robert W. Smiley, G. Kenneth Wilson, Albert Weise, H. B. Reynolds, Dr. C. W. Cummings, John Skillen, M. R. Frings, Martin Newcomer, D. B. Perrin.
Seated—Arthur Besnecker, Harry P. Schane, Mrs. Florence Schick, L. C. Morehouse, Edward Hunter, Harry G. Canning, Mrs. Esther S. Hopf, Harold Johnson.

Few people take time to consider the importance of our school board, but it is a very hard-working group which deserves a great deal of credit. Citizens of West View and Ross Township elect the members of the board for a term of six years. The fine job done by these men and women is the result of many hours spent in solving the school problems of a rapidly progressing community. They held at least one meeting a month in the high school library.

Mr. L. C. Morehouse was the capable president, and Mr. Edward Hunter faithfully fulfilled the duties of vice-president. Secretary for the year was Mr. Harry G. Canning, and Mrs. Esther S. Hopf served as associate secretary.

Along with the usual problems of regulating school taxes and expenditures, hiring personnel and maintenance workers, the problem of the overcrowded conditions of the school has become a major issue. The board plans to build a new high school on the Heim Farm, a six room elementary building in the Gass Road area, and a three room addition to the Evergreen School. These buildings are part of a long range building plan that will relieve present conditions and allow for future growth.

Although we fail to realize the time and effort these citizens put forth in solving the problems of the North Hills Joint School District, we, the students of West View High School, wish to express our sincere appreciation for every opportunity which the Board of Education has provided for us.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Sponsor

One of the basic factors which determines whether a school can succeed is a democratic student council which satisfies the needs of the student body. Our Student Council, composed of one representative from each homeroom and the cabinet officers who were elected in the spring of 1954, worked diligently this year fulfilling the desires and wants of the students. The students were able to express their likes, dislikes, and feelings toward governing the school through the Student Council, and the Council, in turn, kept in touch with the students through Student Council minutes, distributed after each meeting. Besides governing the student body, the Council planned assemblies, developed school spirit, and worked with the faculty.

The money-making project of Student Council was the magazine campaign. With the money earned from this campaign, council carried out its various projects. The remaining money was spent on educational and entertaining assemblies.

The many accomplishments of the Council were achieved only by the efficient work of the cabinet and representatives, and by the co-operation of all the students.

Because of their outstanding work, Student Council received high esteem and respect from the student body and well deserves our thanks.

first class passengers

The class of 1955 can be proud of their three years as an organization. In our sophomore year we elected Eugene Woy, president; Bob Selko, vice-president, Lynne Schafer, secretary; and Jane Harris, treasurer. These officers, along with the executive council and sponsors, Miss Wright and Mr. Martorelli, led us through our first successful year in senior high school. They planned two very enjoyable activities.

Our junior year saw some holdovers and newcomers in our executive positions. Bob Selko, president; Jim Weixel, vice-president; Lynne Schafer, recording secretary; Jane Harris, corresponding secretary; and Sonya Mugnani, treasurer headed our executive council. Some of the jobs that fell upon them were planning activities, collecting dues, distributing class rings, making the arrangements for our Junior Prom and Junior Class Play.

In the important year of 1954-55, our senior year, the class elected Tom Kummer, president; Jim Weixel, vice-president; Myrna Spindler, recording secretary; Ronya Sieg, corresponding secretary; and Karen Thomas, treasurer. The executive council members for our final year were Wayne Campbell, Roberta Dickey, Nancy Jones, Bob Hoffman, Betty Richardson, Chuck Schafer, and Eugene Woy. The duties of the executive council this year were to collect dues, plan activities, and make the plans and arrangements for the Senior Dinner Dance and Commencement.

The class of 1955 thanks their officers, sponsors, and executive councils for a job well done!

ACTIVITIES

Dear Lynn,

To one of the prettiest redheads and nicest persons to come to West Plains this year. I guess I'm "luckier" than most Juniors because I got to know you so well. Don't forget our many troubles with a certain little "Bobby" in Junior Church - And the laughs at little Bobby Anderson that time when we realized he knew a lot more about things than we realized. Here's hoping your next 2 years are as wonderful for you as they possibly can be - They really go awfully fast. All the luck in the world - never change in any way, Lynn. You're so sweet and sincerely friendly just the way you are. Have a wonderful summer, and come back next year the same as you are now.

Love,

Anne Heister Marche

Happy confusion—this is the only description of the long-awaited day when yearbooks are distributed. Everyone is busy collecting autographs and pouring over the articles and pictures. Who was responsible for this year's Westvian?—our capable editor-in-chief, her editors, and their staffs.

As early as last summer, the editors were hard at work planning the yearbook. With the beginning of school came the patron campaign under the direction of Bill Hockenberger, the business manager. It was his job to see that the staff raised the necessary funds to produce the yearbook.

The remaining editors were responsible for the actual production of the yearbook. The illustrations which enliven the pages are accredited to Adolfo Marche and his art staff.

AND STAFF—keep the ship's log

Karen Thomas and her staff were in charge of the May Day Festival as well as writing the features section of the yearbook.

The clever connotations about each senior were written by Valerie Armitage and her literary staff.

All the articles about our various clubs and activities were distributed to the members of the activities staff by Jane Harris. This staff then had the task of listing the names of all people in the pictures.

The sports section, under the editorship of Bill Lafe, is composed of write-ups about our teams and their records.

After all these articles were written, they were again carefully edited, this time by Lynne Schafer, our editor-in-chief, who also arranged the page layouts.

Lynne then handed the articles to Nancy Jones, who along with her staff, had the job of typing each page as it appears in our Westvian.

No yearbook is complete without pictures. These reminders were the responsibility of Flossie Moran, our photography editor.

In the spring the entire staff was rewarded for the year's hard work by the annual Westvian picnic.

Without the guidance of the sponsors, Mr. Herman and Mr. Puchta, the Westvian staff could never have published such a successful book.

Dear Lynne,
To one of the sweetest girls in the Sophomore class. You have all my most sincere wishes for good luck and success in your future years at West View. I know you'll do a good job in the chorus next year. Stay just as you are and with your wonderful personality you'll go far, Remember, Bill Hockenberger

"No news is good news" so the saying goes, but the news our school newspaper, The West Wind, brought to its students was always interesting and good news. The paper was published nine times a year. Seven of these issues could be purchased with Student Athletic Association tickets. The other two were separate as they contained picture inserts.

The sports page of the paper brought us athletic contests. The fashion column informed us of what the well-dressed student should be wearing. Everyone learned the latest school gossip by reading the "Teepee Talk." We were also kept up to date on our alumni and told of coming events. Through the exchange column we learned of happenings in other schools.

This year, in addition to the regular copies of The West Wind, the Extra Point was published several times. This largely contained club activities and sports events.

The task of putting out a newspaper each month was certainly a difficult one and could not have been accomplished without the work of our editor-in-chief, her editors, and staff.

The fact that circulation days found many faces buried behind newspapers at the lunch tables well signifies that The West Wind was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by everyone.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

A few decades ago an organization called the National Honor Society was formed in the United States. When it was introduced into West View fifteen years ago by Miss McGinnis, it became the highest acknowledgment of scholastic achievement in the school. The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulate a desire for service, and encourage the development of character and personality in each individual.

Only the upper twenty-five per cent of the junior and senior classes are considered qualified for membership. It is Miss McGinnis, the sponsor, who has the tedious task of compiling the list of eligibles. This list is then distributed to the teachers who elect the members. No more than five per cent of the junior class and fifteen per cent of the senior class can be received into this organization.

A fiery torch burning upon a keystone is the symbol of the National Honor Society. The replica of this symbol on a gold pin denotes the members.

In a ceremony this spring the five students who were selected when they were juniors conducted the tapping of new members. Later in the year the new members were welcomed and presented with their pins at an impressive candlelight service.

LIBRARY CLUB

ship's librarians

The Library Club consisted of an enthusiastic group of girls who performed the many duties of student librarians. They checked books in and out, prepared new books, mended old ones, kept the bulletin boards up to date, and saw that the library was neat and orderly. The members, numbering about seventy, forfeited their study halls to do this work.

But, of course, it wasn't all work and no play. During the Yuletide season, the girls decorated the library with varieties of Christmas decorations. This was followed by a Christmas party for all the members.

While passing the library on the way to classes, one could always enjoy the attractive bulletin board displays, artistically arranged by the Library Club. These usually illustrated new hobbies, various fields of interest, or seasons of the year.

In the spring the girls were rewarded for their diligent work by the annual banquet held at the West View Methodist Church.

The student body is certainly grateful to these girls for the services they rendered during the year.

G. Graham, Secretary; C. Wise, Vice-President; R. Sieg, Treasurer; and Miss Rea, Sponsor, sign out a book for S. Mosca, President.

Poise, voice projection, and self confidence are just a few of the qualities students attain as members of the Speech Club.

Membership was open to any student who was genuinely interested in public speaking. Every Monday the members could be found in room 204, each laboring to perfect his particular field of speaking, whether it be debate, oratory, extemporaneous, original, or serious declamation.

This year West View was well represented in many speech contests and student congresses by individuals as well as the boys' and girls' debate teams. In addition to gaining experience at these contests, the students helped perpetuate the reputation of West View High School.

Points are given according to the outcome of the contests and credited to the person participating. When one reaches a total of twenty points, he earns membership in the National Forensic League. After earning fifty points, the degree of merit is awarded. One hundred points rates a degree of honor, and the highest award, the degree of distinction, is given to those having achieved two hundred points.

This year the Speech Club has been very active. The officers, sponsors, and members deserve a vote of thanks for making this a club of which we can be proud.

Miss Sprowls, Sponsor; L. Schafer, Secretary-Treasurer; S. Mugnani, President; J. Meyer, Vice-President; and Mr. Metz, Sponsor practice using the podium.

Lynn,
Loads of luck to the little "Redhead" who always wears such big hoops.
Remember all the fun we've had in high school and during the summer playing badmitton, and we never winning one tournament. Stay as nice, and cheerful as always and you'll never lack for a friend.

our stewardesses

On many Wednesday evenings this year, an enthusiastic group of girls gathered in the auditorium for the Y-Teen meetings. The purpose of this service organization is to help the girls realize the Christian ideals of personal and social living, and to help them better themselves and others.

This year was inaugurated with an impressive candlelight recognition service held in the high school. During the year movies, speakers, and other forms of entertainment were provided. Some of the outstanding speakers this year were an airline hostess, a hair stylist, a representative from Earl Wheeler's Modeling School, and a fashion director from a department store.

To convey the Christmas spirit, the girls dressed dolls which were given to underprivileged children.

Selling refreshments at the football games and sponsoring dances after the games were their main sources of revenue.

The girls had many socials with the Hi-Y. Their biggest event was the Thanksgiving semi-formal.

As the climax of the busy year, Y-Teen sponsored the annual senior breakfast the morning of May Day for all the senior girls.

As you can see, Y-Teen, under the direction of Mrs. Craig, provided a variety of opportunities for spiritual and social growth.

Sally Eiszler, President and Mrs. Craig, Sponsor pour coffee as they often did at football games.

To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character has been the purpose of Hi-Y in past years and shall be in years to come. Hundreds of boys have dedicated themselves to this purpose in their years at West View, and again this year two hundred Hi-Y members pledged themselves to maintain these standards.

The program this year was built around social, athletic, and religious adjustment.

The social program included skating parties, dances, and the Wednesday night meetings. Interesting speakers, such as a state trooper and a representative from the United States Navy, were on the program at the meetings.

In athletics the club also reached high levels of achievement. With new sports features and the fine basketball squad which has excelled in previous years, they couldn't help but succeed.

The candlelight induction service on November 3rd demonstrated the religious feature of Hi-Y. It was woven into the club's activities thereby assuring a complete program for all members.

Led by the capable officers and cabinet, the club attained its highest aims. Congratulations should also go to the club's sponsors, Mr. Craig and Mr. Gay.

SHUFFLE SHOP COMMITTEE

Again this year as in past years, Shuffle Shop has gained glory as the favorite Saturday night activity of students of West View. All this has been made possible by the energetic and untiring Shuffle Shop Committee. The job the hard-working committee did was by no means an easy one. They spent many long hours making our Shuffle Shop the well-run and ever popular dance that it was. Every Saturday afternoon the committee members could be found in the gym, hard at work, putting up band risers and decorations to give each dance a new atmosphere. They were led in their many tasks by the competent secretary, Louis Stephany.

This year the basic policy of Shuffle Shop was changed slightly and a new one was successfully launched. In order to create a new and varied interest, the clubs of the school, each in their turn, became the sponsor of Shuffle Shop. Their dances were all well planned and each had its original ideas for decoration and style that could not help but win praise and admiration from all who attended.

The club-sponsored dances were interspersed quite frequently by those planned by the Shuffle Shop Committee. Some of these dances were "The Kick-off Dance" honoring football season, a "Sock Hop," the "Christmas Dance," and the "King and Queen of Shuffle Shop Dance."

This committee was also responsible for contacting the disc jockeys who spun their records at several of our dances.

master musicians

Here at West View we are ever striving to maintain the high traditions set up by our predecessors. One of these traditions is in the field of music. Our orchestra, one division of the music department, worked very hard achieving this goal. Every day, during the third period, the orchestra practiced under the direction of Mr. Caruso. As each day passed, it improved and now is considered tops along with other musical groups in the school.

This year the orchestra was organized at Camp-Kon-O-Kwee. The full string section spent a week at music camp, accomplishing a month's work in one week and yet enjoying themselves. The concert they gave at camp showed indication that they were off to a good start.

The orchestra made public appearances at the junior and senior class plays, a special Christmas concert, a concert at Carnegie Music Hall, and a joint performance with the band in the spring. One of the most outstanding events was an orchestra festival initiated this year. At these appearances the girls wore dark skirts, and the boys wore dark suits. They played a fine selection of music, both classical and jazz. The climax of the year came with the final performance at the Syria Mosque for the Commencement program.

The memories of the orchestra's activities and the enjoyable times at practices will not be forgotten. These talented musicians truly deserve our praise for having completed a highly successful year.

A reverberant roar echoed throughout the stadium as the announcer said, "Ladies and gentlemen, presenting the West View High School Marching Band."

This organization has worked hard to achieve its eminence in music and showmanship. The band pioneered in such feats as fast precision marching, swing, and dancing musicians. It presented at least nine new shows during the football season giving the audience a different performance for each game.

Some highlights of this year which drew an expectant hush from the crowd were the band's new company front and the high toss of the baton by our drum major, Bill Blair. The band also made appearances at the Lion's Club Festival of Bands at our own field, and the Steeler-Philadelphia football game.

Along with the eighty-four members of the band, there were nine regular majorettes with Deanna DeMaria as their captain. These girls were outstanding in their delightful routines. They, too, worked hard learning new twirls and dances and well deserve our pride in them. Two of their favorites were "In the Mood" and "Tiger Rag."

Football season did not end the activities of the band. Throughout the school year concerts were presented to the public for their listening enjoyment.

The social activities of the band brought much enjoyment into the hearts of each member. Skating parties, picnics, dances, the annual junior-senior football game, and the spaghetti dinner will long be remembered.

This organization could not function properly without the leadership of its executive council and Mr. Caruso, a most competent director. They made the laws and saw that the band ran smoothly. Each band member co-operated wholeheartedly with these people and gave his utmost to make the band a great success.

The Girls Bowling Club opened its fall season on a crisp October evening at the bowling alleys in Bellevue. Fifty girls attended the first match proving that the members do not let distance or weather interfere with their enthusiasm for the game. The club was divided into six teams, each consisting of eight girls. Six or more girls must represent their team each week while every girl must bowl at least bi-weekly to be considered a member.

The Bowling Club was started by a few girls of the class of "48" and has steadily become a very popular club. As a result of bowling week after week, the girls developed a fine sense of good sportsmanship and team spirit.

In the spring the Bowling Club wound up a successful season by holding its traditional banquet. Merited prizes were awarded for high team score, high individual score, high average, and of course, consolation prizes were given to those with low scores. Many door prizes were also given.

HALL PATROL

The '54-'55 West View High School Hall Patrol was composed of boys who served the school by maintaining constant order. They could always be depended upon to keep the "between class rush" in line. By demanding co-operation, they eliminated confusion and helped students get to classes faster. In addition to regulating this rush, the patrol eliminated congestion during the lunch periods.

At the end of last year, the present hall patrol members were chosen by their sponsor, Mr. Craig, and the newly elected secretary of traffic, Bob Hanna. They served a few weeks before the end of last year in order to become familiar with their job.

Red and yellow armbands signifying order identified the hall patrol members. Each remained faithful to his post situated at some strategic point in the halls.

And so, just as we are proud of our other activities at West View, we should be equally proud of our hall patrol. They served the students completely and demonstrated our motto, "Not to be served, but to serve."

What would we do without cheerleaders? That's really a hard question to answer for West View can always count on its cheerleaders to be on hand to keep up its spirit.

This year, as in the past four years, the cheerleaders have been under the helpful eye of Mr. Caruso. His guidance, together with long weeks of practice during the summer months, accounts for the vivaciousness and industry shown by this year's squads.

Seven peppy senior girls composed our varsity squad. They cheered for all football and Friday night basketball games and headed all pep assemblies. In keeping with school tradition, the girls wore jumpers of bright red corduroy with white blouses for basketball and heavy white sweaters for football games. They were headed by their captain, Sally Jo Mosca, a veteran of five years. All these girls deserve a lot of credit for their willingness to work.

The six junior girls on our varsity cadette squad cheered at football game half times and Tuesday night basketball games, while the seven sophomore junior varsity cheerleaders led cheers for the j.v. football and basketball teams.

If the girls in years to come continue to have the same pep and school spirit as they had this year, West View will always have a group it can be proud to call its cheerleaders.

hoists our morale

West View's school spirit has been tops this year. One of the chief contributory causes for this was the 1955 Pep Club. Its officers, committee heads, and the hard-working members themselves made the club successful. Although they had many jobs, their principal task was to maintain the school spirit and morale.

During the year the industrious members were to be found around the school painting, putting up colorful athletic posters, and working long hours decorating the auditorium for pep assemblies. This involved stringing crepe paper around and across the balcony, painting at least two enormous signs every week, and putting up balloons and other necessary decorations. Pep Club members also took tickets and ushered at all the football games, basketball games, and wrestling matches. They sold West View pennants during lunch.

After the first home football game, Pep Club held a dance, "The Football Fling." They also sponsored Shuffle Shop one night with a dance entitled, "The Basin Street Bounce." Their third successful dance," The Hoop Shoop," was held after a basketball game.

Mr. Caruso, the untiring sponsor of the Pep Club, was always on hand with his many novel ideas and expert guidance.

Complete co-operation among the members and their unremitting spirit made the past year one of the very best for the Pep Club.

Here at West View we have football, basketball, wrestling, golf, track, and baseball teams for the boys. But never fear, the girls have their chance to take a bow in the sports field too. The Girls Athletic Association or, as it is usually called, G.A.A., provided this opportunity to all feminine sports enthusiasts.

Even though the girls did not participate in extremely strenuous interscholastic sports, they had just as good a time competing in a very rugged intramural schedule. To become a member of this organization, a girl needed only to be willing to give her time and energy to make it a successful club.

The members of the G.A.A. strived for their most coveted possession, a chenille red and gold varsity letter. To earn this letter a girl must receive a total of one hundred points. One point was given for each attendance, and one-half point to the members on the winning team. A girl earning forty points received a G.A.A. letter. The person who received the highest number of points automatically became the president.

The G.A.A., under the capable guidance of Miss Aiken, has learned teamwork and good sportsmanship. We hope that in the future, the G.A.A. will have as much success as it has had this year.

STAGE CREW

hard-working deck hands

"Pull that curtain, man the lights, set the stage,"—these were familiar cries of the stage crew, a hard-working organization under the leadership of Gil Zwetsch, vice-president of Student Council, and the sponsorship of Mr. Metz who trained the members for their particular jobs.

The members of the stage crew were responsible for the setting up of each performance and assembly presented at the high school. They also cleaned up when the performances had been completed.

Besides performances by school organizations, the stage crew tackled the jobs of operating lights, setting stages, and managing various delicate details entailed with the Lion's Club, the Parents Musical Association, the Parent Teacher Association, and other outside organizations.

One of their most difficult jobs was the production of the class plays. The stage crew played a most important part as they handled and managed all the stage work which led to the success of each play.

These fourteen boys not only worked hard, but also gained experience and knowledge of backstage operations.

The work of the stage crew is one of the most thankless jobs at West View for their accomplishments are never entirely recognized or appreciated. They are deserving of the applause of the whole school.

To those "pueri et puellae" taking Latin, an opportunity is given to join the Latin Club. This year students participating in this activity gained a better understanding of the ancient language and Roman customs in a most interesting and enjoyable manner.

The Latin Club held a business meeting once a month as well as many social gatherings. Two consuls presided over each meeting along with the scribe, treasurer, High Priest, and other members of the Senate.

A party in honor of Pasquale Urbano, the Italian exchange student, launched the social events. In the latter part of October, the Latin Club took a field trip to Carnegie Tech to see a classical Greek play. November and January brought successful skating parties, sponsored for the enjoyment of the entire student body.

One of the important events of the year was Latin Week, during which a field trip was taken to the Buhl Planetarium. Each student was required to make a project, the best of which were displayed at the Planetarium.

Under the capable sponsorship of Miss Vance, this year's Latin Club definitely progressed both socially and culturally.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The ultimate ambition of most girls is to become a wife and homemaker. To prepare them for this lifetime job, we have an activity called the Future Homemakers of America.

This popular girls' club met after school every Thursday under the guidance of their capable sponsor, Miss McCabe.

The activities of F.H.A. were many. In late fall, the club sponsored the "Juniper Jump" at Shuffle Shop. Immediately following one of the meetings after school, the girls prepared and served a covered dish dinner for their own members. During the Christmas season, the club took the boys and girls of a children's home into town to see Santa Claus. Among the many other projects of F.H.A. was planning for outside speakers. Early in the fall a hairdresser spoke to the girls, and at Christmas time a demonstrator showed them some valuable tips on gift-wrapping. In addition to these activities, the girls held banquets and other social functions throughout the year.

The co-operation and enthusiasm of these girls helped to make the club the success that it was. This year's F.H.A. club took great strides in fulfilling its motto, "Toward New Horizons."

Soaring high on the list of musical activities are the angelic voices of West View's chorus. A weekly mass rehearsal of the one hundred and twelve members was held every Friday, first period. During the week each chorister had a daily voice class.

As part of the chorus's full schedule of performances, they gave a program at the September Parents Musical Association meeting, presented "The Messiah" at Christmas, appeared on WQED-TV, presented an operetta, and participated in our annual "Concert Under the Stars." To complete their program, the chorus visited a college and sang at Baccalaureate in May.

The sixty-nine chapel choir members worked extra hard in order to complete the devotions of every assembly with a hymn of praise and the "Lord's Prayer."

Four ensembles were formed and performed at various places throughout the year. They all displayed a cappella harmony at its best.

This year officers for president, secretary, and treasurer were elected. A representative from each section of the chorus was chosen by that section to compose an executive council. Its success was proven by the superior discipline and the good times enjoyed.

Miss Conner, the capable and well-liked director, has truly produced a music department in which West View may take due pride.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

As the fall season approached, coaches Mario Martorelli and Guy Guadagino found themselves with the problem of rebuilding the football team. Only four lettermen returned from last year's squad, and, owing to extra enrollment, the school had jumped into AA competition in sports and thus had one of its toughest schedules in years.

Don Hart played left end and came up with that all-important shoestring catch time and again. He also kicked our extra points. Dave Ott and Sam Zeno did an excellent job of alternating at right end, and were especially outstanding on their defensive work. Our first-string tackles this year were Bob Hanna, a co-captain, and Lou Nardozzi. Fred Bonsmann, Kenny Hartman, and John Roberts were their able replacements. Lou Stephany and Gus Nauman were the first-string guards with Rich Bechtold and Bob Tubridy also doing a commendable job at this position. Center this year was John Moeller who kept West View's fumbles to a minimum. Our hard-driving, enthusiastic fullback was Tom Kummer. Bob Selko, our other co-captain, made an excellent quarterback with his fiery running and adept passing. Mark Ihrig and Ron Cook were our skillful junior halfbacks. Arnold Washington was our second-string center and one of the stalwarts of the defensive squad as a linebacker. Mike Zeno often played fullback and also saw a lot of duty on the line. Jack Gressang and Howard Pollard were very valuable to West View's defenses too, as they were fast on their feet and sure tacklers. Ron McKelvey, Ron Palome, and Dick Weinzetl were capable backfield replacements.

The Indians got off to a slow start this year with five straight losses. These included a heart breaking 14-7 defeat at Shaler in which the Huskies scored the decisive touchdown in the final four seconds. However, our team was in there fighting every moment of every game. They worked extra hard at practice and never lacked terrific spirit. Then, with the student body one hundred per cent behind them, they broke into the light with a 12-6 victory over McKees Rocks. Bob Selko threw a pass to Don Hart for our first touchdown, while the second one resulted from a sustained drive of ninety yards ending with Mark Ihrig's plunge to the two yard line and Mike Zeno's plunge for the touchdown. Baldwin set the Indians back, but the next Friday they trounced Bethel 26-2. Mike Zeno, Tom Kummer, and Bob Selko were our touchdown heroes in this game. In the last game of the season, the powerful Mount Lebanon team was a little too much for the Indians since the Mounties won 33-13.

Although this year's team did not place the best record in the books, they were a very hard-working, high-spirited team of which West View can be very proud. Our sincere congratulations go to the coaches, players, and managers of the 1954 West View High School football team for they showed that they really had the heart to tackle the AA schedule.

West View High School can certainly be proud of its Junior Varsity football team this year, for it was the first time in West View's history that any J.V. team had gone unbeaten.

The season opened with a 12-0 victory at Moon, and after that there was just no stopping the team. Included in the year's triumphs were a surprisingly easy contest over the North Allegheny varsity, 27-0, and a close call at Oliver, 7-6.

The final game of the year at Shaler was as exciting as any spectator could ask for. West View scored first and at the half led, 14 to 7. Both teams scored once in the third quarter, but Shaler missed the extra point making the score 21-13. Shaler scored again half-way through the fourth quarter but again missed the extra point. West View received the kick-off but was forced to punt. Shaler then took the ball and drove to the two yard line where they were held for four downs by an aroused West View team.

Congratulations are certainly in order to the two coaches, Mr. Hare and Mr. Harper. We realize that winning isn't all important, but a winner is always appreciated and this year is no exception.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1954-55 Indians, under the guidance of Coach Martorelli, compiled an envious record of 16 wins and only 6 defeats. With a record of 11 wins and one loss in league competition, they emerged as W.P.I.A.L. Section 9-A Champions. They were defeated in a tournament game at the Pitt Field House by a strong Farrell team.

One of the most exciting games was the 61-58 victory over second place Stowe Township. By winning this game, the Indians proved they were definitely championship material.

The team had only one letterman, Don Hart, returning from last year. Hart was selected as captain of this year's squad and tallied 257 points.

Along with Hart, the starting five consisted of Dave Ott, Jerry Schomburger, Sam Zeno, and Tom Kummer, all seniors. Ott, Schomburger, and Zeno made up the bulk of the team's rebounding strength and scored 270, 156, 164, respectively. Kummer was the fast play maker who brought the ball into action and totaled 167 points. Jim Weixel and Howard Schneider were able senior replacements.

West View can be very proud of its championship team's record, good sportsmanship, determination, and most of all, its team spirit.

The junior varsity basketball team, coached by Grant Hare, started its season with virtually the same team that won the freshman championship last year. The boys worked hard, and although there was no title for them to win, they displayed outstanding spirit all through the season.

Nine boys earned their letter this year. They are Ed Abel, Bernie Buzalak, Dave Corley, Rod Kotchin, John Leech, Bob Moran, Ted Newlin, Lee Seybert, and Herb Wright. Ed Abel and Dave Corley led the team in scoring with 232 and 210 points respectively. These two boys also played on the varsity squad for many of the games. It was only through team effort, however, that the team was able to produce the fine record of 17 wins and 4 losses.

We look to these sophomores of today for some future varsity championships. Congratulations to Coach Hare and his team.

keeps the engine putting

Once again spring was here and with it came the golf season. The West View High School links men, under the direction of Nelson J. Tiffany, captured their fifth consecutive section title. They were defeated, however, in the playoffs by Sharon eight to seven.

West View opened the season with a victory over North Catholic and continued their winning ways to finish the season with a record of ten wins and only two losses. Tod Morrow held down first position on the team and finished the season with a medal average of 76.5. Dick Gibson, in the second position, was medalist for the year with a 76.1 average. The other members of the team who also played so capably were Sam Landis in third position, Jim Lloyd in fourth position and Frank Ransick in fifth position. The team average for this year was an exceptionally low 79.4. Congratulations to Mr. Tiffany and his team of '54.

makes big catches

With a nucleus of holdovers from 1953's championship team, Coach Hartman was again able to produce a winner. However, West Deer succeeded in snatching the section title from West View by winning the play-off game.

The remaining regulars from last year's squad were Ted Bowser, catcher; Don Biertempfel, first baseman; Bob Selko, shortstop; and Jack Nardulli and Paul Bassett, outfielders. Newcomers who cracked the starting line-up were Dick "Alabam" Albosta, third baseman; Chuck Zieg and Johnny Selko, second basemen; and Don Hart and Bob Weinzetl, outfielders. The pitching assignments were handled by John Heintz (1-0), Ed Able (2-1), Jerry Schomburger (0-0), and Bob Selko (5-2). Our batting champion was Jack Nardulli who had an average of .441, and who came through with many clutch hits including one memorable 335 foot wallop against West Deer.

West View was defeated only twice in league play, both times by West Deer. The Indians, however, were able to turn the tables once on this team, 4 to 3, in a well pitched game by Bob Selko and a well played game all the way around. In exhibition play the Viewers suffered two losses at Ambridge, while gaining a victory at Oliver.

wrestles with the rigs

The West View wrestling team under the guidance of its second year coach, Mr. Weixel, began its season with few holdover regulars and its usual difficult season ahead of it. Many of their opponents, such as Carnegie and Shaler, were much more experienced, but this did not stop the West View mat men from putting up a good fight in every match.

The team had several stand-out performers this season. Bob Tubridy, who wrestled in the 165 pound class finished the season with a wonderful 10 to 0 record; Rich Reutzel, 133 pound wrestler; Bill Blair, who wrestled at 154 pounds; Jay Nunamaker, who weighed in at 112; and Gene Woy, 127 pounder, are four other seniors who turned in fine performances.

No matter what their record, West View is proud of its wrestling team. We are doubly proud this year because we realize that the team had to face tough opponents week after week. We think that the wrestling team of 1955 was West View's "try" team. Our heartiest congratulations to Coach Weixel and the team.

keeps the ship running

The coming of the '54 spring season ushered in a new sport at West View. Under the supervision of Mr. Duda, a teacher at Samuel Hamilton Junior High School, track was inaugurated. The grinding of spikes against cinders became a familiar sound around West View field as the thinclads started their practice.

The team participated in two meets, a dual-meet with Plum Township and a tri-meet with Shaler and Ambridge. The track, or running events were the one hundred yard dash, the two hundred and twenty yard run, the four hundred and forty yard relay, the eight hundred and eighty yard run, and the mile run. The field events were the discus, broad jump, high jump, shot put and pole vault. At the first meet with Plum Township, Tom Kummer took first place in the mile run, and Dick Restelli won the high jump event. Inexperience, however, hampered the team.

By enlarging the schedule, Mr. Duda hopes he can interest more boys in this sport. We're sure that track will be a success at West View and that before too many years have elapsed, it will gain as much prestige as the rest of our athletic program. Congratulations to Mr. Duda and West View's first track team.

MAY FESTIVAL

crowning the beautiful mermaid

"Was this the face that launch'd a thousand ships,
And burnt the topless towers of Ilium?"
Christopher Marlowe.

May Day, that exciting day of the year when everybody breathlessly awaits the crowning of the queen! Ever since December when eight senior girls were nominated, questioning and speculating were heard throughout the halls of West View. Pictures of these lovely girls were posted on the bulletin board in the hall until the final election in January. Then the three graces were unveiled and excitement rose as to whom the queen would be.

Finally after months of suspense, May Day arrived. A tense crowd flocked to West View to view the beautiful May Day Pageant. Jesters, trumpeters, and court dancers walked down the isle and onto the stage where the coronation would be made by the retiring queen, Judy Moore. Before the queen arrived, the five personal attendants—Barbara Brandt, Jane Harris, Mary Ann Rickard, Ronya Sieg and Myrna Spindler—were presented. Tension mounted as the Lady in Waiting, Norma Knaus, appeared, followed by the Maid of Honor, Karen Thomas. All eyes were upon them as each slowly came down the aisle and took her place at either side of the queen's throne. The time had come at last. The doors opened and out stepped our beautiful Queen of the May, Sally Jo Mosca. Approving eyes followed the queen's stately march to the throne. She was dressed regally, with the traditional full white gown, long veil, and exquisite crown. A gala program was presented in her honor by the court attendants.

We, the class of 1955 bow to our Queen. May she have a happy reign during the ensuing year.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY - 1955

"You Can't Take It With You"

The room we see when the curtain opens is what is customarily described as a living room, but in this house the term is an understatement. The every-man-for-himself room would be more like it. Here plays are written, snakes collected, ballet steps practiced, xylophones played, printing presses operated, and guests entertained.

The play stars the entire Sycamore family. Mrs. Penelope Sycamore, a fanatic play writer, was played by Arden Thomson. Her daughter and dancing enthusiast, Essie, was portrayed by Deanna DeMaria, and Bill Hockenberger was her husband. Barbara Brandt was daughter Alice, the only seemingly sound-minded individual of the family. The entire brood was presided over by the grandfather, Martin Vanderhof, who was characterized by Bill Lafe.

From the moment the play began until the final curtain, it rollicked along at a laugh-a-minute pace. Everyone who saw it enjoyed it thoroughly. Congratulations to the excellent cast and their director, Mr. Craig.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY - 1954

"Beauty and the Beef"

Have you ever heard of two intelligent girls who tried to poison a football team so they could win a game? Well, this is precisely what happened in our three-act junior class play, "Beauty and the Beef," which was presented November 18th, 19th, and 20th, 1953.

Deanna DeMaria and Bob Selko played the lead roles of Ginny Allen, a girl who was trying to erase her reputation of a "brain," and "Beef" Anderson, her boy friend and captain of the football team. Tod Morrow and Lynne Schafer played Ginny's parents, while Jim Weixel was her brother, Lester. Flossie Moran starred as Lester's girl friend; Frannie Barton, another "brain," was played by Sonya Mugnani; and Tom Kummer was Foggy Ryan, her boy friend and drum major of the school band.

As the applause rose for the final curtain, the cast dolefully realized that their play was over. However, they could well be proud of the results for they kept the audience highly entertained.

SENIOR ACTIVITY

Autumn Nocturne

The brisk, crystal clear night of November twenty-sixth provided an excellent setting for "Autumn Nocturne," the first senior activity of the year. At approximately eight-thirty, students began arriving at McSorley's Colonial. The impressive mural room with its old-fashioned scenes aroused favorable comments. The girls looked dazzling in their swishing, full-skirted taffetas and soft velvets. The boys, handsome in their best suits, were a tribute to West View. Couples danced dreamily in the softly lighted room to the popular records of the juke box. Every now and then there would be a slight commotion as Freddie, the yearbook photographer, took pictures of different groups dancing or sitting at the tables which surrounded the floor, but this only added to the fun. Some of the energetic couples went downstairs and tried their skill at bowling. Shortly before midnight the "Bunnyhop" was played, and couples quickly formed a long line winding their way through several rooms doing the traditional dance. Wearied by our dancing and bowling efforts, we sat down to a lunch which consisted of hamburgers, french fries, and cokes. After everyone had his fill of refreshments, we began to dance again. As the evening quickly died away, we reluctantly prepared to leave. The "Autumn Nocturne" was an event long to be remembered in the hearts and minds of the seniors.

Let's sit this one out.

A friendly "hello" to our wonderful sponsors.

Hey, Freddie! Take our picture.

JUNIOR PROM

Juniors' Night

Nine o'clock, April 30, 1954, was the moment that we had looked forward to for years—the beginning of our Junior Prom. We walked into the beautiful West View Danceland and were greeted by the reception line. There were tables all around the dance floor and from the band stand Wally Gingers and his orchestra played smooth music. Girls in lovely gowns and their dates in dinner jackets or dark suits danced as the whirling ball lent a glamorous atmosphere to the room. For variety we danced to the Bunny Hop and the Mexican Hat Dance. When we grew tired of dancing, we could play Goofy Golf or have refreshments. At twelve the Prom was officially ended by the band playing and everyone singing our Alma Mater.

However, for many of us the night had just begun, for we had the all night After Prom Party to look forward to. Lunch was served at twelve-thirty. It consisted of ham sandwiches, potato salad, baked beans, soft drinks, and milk. Throughout the night we danced to records spun by favorite disc jockeys. Along with special entertainment arranged by the junior executive council and more Goofy Golf, the wee hours of the morning slipped by. Before we knew it, it was breakfast time. Delicious doughnuts, sweetrolls, fruitjuice, and cocoa or coffee were served. All too soon our After Prom Party had ended. Couples, weary but happy, left Danceland with many never-to-be-forgotten memories.

Our girls' ensemble entertains us.

Bobbie Vinton's music is enjoyed by all.

SENIOR DINNER DANCE

Captains' Dinner

The Senior Dinner Dance on February twenty-sixth was an outstanding beginning to the chain of events leading to graduation day. The Orange Blossom Suite of the Gateway Plaza provided an appropriate atmosphere. All enjoyed the turkey dinner, and the dessert, a strawberry chiffon pie, was a big hit.

The seniors and guests were welcomed by Tom Kummer, senior class president. He thanked the class officers and representatives for the wonderful way in which they led the class throughout the year. He then introduced Mr. Luke, our principal, who said a few words to the class. Dr. Rice, our supervising principal, who was also invited, but was unable to attend, sent the class a very nice letter which Tom read. Miss Wright and Mr. Martorelli, our capable class sponsors, were then introduced. Each gave a few words of congratulations. To end the very enjoyable dinner, the girls' ensemble entertained us with three selections—"Mr. Sandman," "No Other Love," and "After Graduation Days," and then closed by leading the class in singing the "Alma Mater."

At nine o'clock the tables were cleared away, and dancing began to the music of Bobbie Vinton's Orchestra. He played all the old favorites and many of the new.

The evening slipped away all too soon, but the pleasant memories of the fun and fellowship will remain with us forever.

SHUFFLE SHOP

dancing on the deck

Saturday night can mean only one thing here at West View—dancing to the sweet music of a band or the latest record hits at Shuffle Shop. This year Shuffle Shop was headed successfully by Lou Stephany, secretary of Shuffle Shop. He was backed by the energetic Shuffle Shop Committee.

Something new was begun this year. Various school clubs and activities, in their turn, sponsored these weekly dances. This created competition among the organizations of the school and some very enjoyable evenings at Shuffle Shop.

Because of the success of this system, Shuffle Shop membership cards were again sold. With these cards students were admitted to the dance at a reduced price.

This season started with the Kick-Off Dance. Throughout the year there were special dances. One of the most popular, as always, was the Christmas Dance. Barry Kaye, a local disc jockey, was invited to several of the dances and played his collection of records. Other favorite dances were the "Westvian Wiggle" sponsored by the Westvian, "Bop Shop" sponsored by the band, "A Night with King Neptune" sponsored by the West Wind, "Basin Street Bounce" sponsored by the pep club, "Heart's Desire" sponsored by the junior class, the March of Dimes Dance, and the King and Queen of the Shuffle Shop Dance.

First Verse

Voices gay, of youth and maiden,
Echo 'round thy halls,
Memories tender cling forever
To thy chambered walls.

Chorus

Alma Mater, we thy children
Tribute bring to thee.
Hail to thee, our dear old West View,
Hail thy memory.
